

Maggie Walker

Maggie Walker was an African-American businesswoman and teacher. She was the first African-American woman bank president in the United States. Later in life she became disabled with paralysis and had to use a wheelchair. She then became an advocate for people with disabilities. Maggie Walker lived in Richmond, Virginia.

Biographical Information

born: July 15, 1867

died: December 15, 1934

Lived in: Richmond, VA

Interesting Facts:
Maggie's mother was a Civil War Spy for the Union.

created by: Jane Doe